Customize and animate your custom crafted hero and prepare to take on your enemies. Create a character and background (and everything in between), bring them to life with fully interactive animations, then set them loose on your enemies to defeat them with all the action-packed moves you can imagine. Not only that, but the physics-based movement of the environment, and the ability to scale, flip, jump, slide, swim, and so much more is built right into the art creation process. You can also get the look of the content on the world to work on the same character you built. No need to select a different character and set it up again. Everything is built right into the art file, including character clothing, hair, accessories, dyes, skin and textures. Throw in the ability to change your character's gender, and you can have a fully customized character in just a few steps. Spriter has been especially designed to give you full control to create amazing animations, as well as being a fun game-creation tool that you can use to create your very own world, along with the custom character and background you create. Just choose one of the default character skins (or create your own in our customization process) and start playing. Once you've created your character, you can easily customize it to suit your needs or use the images or pre-assembled characters in your own unique ways to create completely original animations. Design a character from head to toe, and animate them with any body type you can imagine. You can also easily edit your character's clothing and body types to create clothing that is custom to the character's gender. Then spice it up with a wide assortment of accessories, hair and facial expressions, and you have a fully customizable character and environment. No project is too big or too small. Our content is all modular, allowing you to add, subtract, re-size, recolor, recolour, swap, and swap for any purpose you wish. If you just want to create your own game world for your dreams, Spriter and its ability to import all our world creation tools, characters, backgrounds and animations give you a head start. Or you can build your entire game world from scratch (for example, create a city that's built from the ground up as opposed to just randomly dropped in.) Use the modular tools to create a fully dynamic character to walk, run, jump, slide, tackle, dash, swim, and flip in real-time
